The Doctrine of Assumed Liability.

In reversing the judgment in the case of Neihaus Brothers Company versus the Contra Costa Water Company the Supreme Court has virtually decided that the plaintiff had no cause of action against the water company. It also lays down a broad principle which will completely upset the theory of implied contracts between public service corporations and their patrons. For instance, it has been contended that a railroad company is under contract to furnish a seat to every passenger who buys a ticket.

In August, 1901, a planing mill belonging to Neihaus Brothers was burned at West Berkeley. It was contended by the plaintiff that lack of water was responsible for the loss. The Contra Costa Water Company had seven hydrants distributed about the plant, but it was claimed that the water supply was insufficient to extinguish the flames.

In the Superior Court the plaintiff recovered a judgment for $128,645, representing the value of the property destroyed. The defendant appealed, and the Supreme Court has remanded the case for a new trial on grounds that deprive the plaintiff of any cause of action.

No contract existed between the water corporation and the planing mill company, according to the view of the Supreme Court, which is expressed in an opinion written by Justice Lorigan and concurred in by Justices Shaw, Henshaw, Angeliotti and Sloss. The court found that the defendant was supplying the plaintiff with water under the same terms and conditions that it supplied other patrons, and was under no contract, express or implied, to protect the Neihaus Brothers from any consequences which might ensue from a shortage of water. Further, the court held that if there had been a contract, the corporation's liabilities did not extend to fire protection and only served to guarantee water to the consumer. There was not even an obligation other than the ordinary relation existing between a public service corporation and its customers.

It is easy to see that the principle set up by the plaintiff in the above named case, if successfully maintained, would have compelled every person or corporation serving water to the public to assume the obligations of an insurance company, with no fixed amount of liability. Any deficiency in the service or shortage of water would make the water purveyor liable for the value of all the property destroyed. Such a rule would destroy the value of every water plant in the State, for no person or corporation could afford to engage in the business of supplying water to the public under such a liability. Municipal corporations owning their own water plants would be subject to the same liability, hence every fire would be followed by a crop of lawsuits to make the purveyors of water meet the liabilities insurance companies are paid to assume. The burden of responsibility would be shifted from the shoulders of persons whose duty it is to guard their property against fire and the insurance companies.

Moreover, it would be an obvious encouragement to arson.

A contract of liability cannot be assumed. It must be expressed and understood and it is a grave mistake to assume that setting up implied contracts between company and patrons on shadowy grounds can improve the relations that public service corporations sustain with their patrons. While those relations should be defined and regulated by law, statutes cannot be created on assumption, particularly statutes obviously at war with every principle of equity and plain, opposed to public policy.

Superior Judges are paid $6000 a year in San Francisco and Los Angeles counties, but in Alameda county they are paid only $5000 a year. This discrimination is unjust and unwise. The benefit of this county demands as high capabilities as any in the State, but it cannot continue to call to its service jurists of the highest character if the judges are insufficiently paid. To increase the compensation of Alameda county judges to the scale prevailing in San Francisco and Los Angeles will require an annual expenditure of $6000. One-half this sum would be paid by the State and the other half by the county. But the county cannot increase the salaries of judges unless the Legislature authorizes it since the State pays half the salaries of Superior Judges, who are in reality State officers. This county has six judges. San Francisco and Los Angeles have twelve each. In each of those counties the State pays $36,000 a year for judicial service. It pays $15,000 a year in Alameda county. The arrangement is unfair. The salaries should be equalized. There is no reason why judges in this county should do more work for less pay than in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

It is no time for Oakland to close the door against railroads desiring to enter this city. It is a city which should include access to the water front, so that water and rail transportation may be conjoined to the best advantage. This city wants rapid transit communication with the interior of Contra Costa county, such as the Oakland and Antioch Railway proposes to give, but it cannot do this unless the city opens its gates to the newcomer. The importance of the Oakland and Antioch Railway as a trade and travel artery is universally recognized, but a handful of persons are trying to block the road's entrance for purely sentimental reasons. While sentiment is not to be derided, it should not be permitted to obstruct progress entirely. Individual sentiment must give way to the needs and welfare of a whole city.

Do Women Want the Ballot?

The women suffragists promptly and vigorously protested against Senator Sanford's proposal to submit the question of woman suffrage to a vote of the women of the State. They grounded their protest on the statement that taking a vote of the women would prevent anything else being done toward giving women the ballot at this session of the Legislature. So, at their request the Sanford proposition was voted down and a constitutional amendment granting women the right to vote will be submitted to a vote of the men two years hence.

When the suffrage issue comes up at the polls the question raised by Senator Sanford will remain unanswered. Do a majority of the women of California want the ballot? That is what the Senator from Ukiah wanted to know. It is what a great many other men want to know. Senator Sanford says he is willing to vote for woman suffrage whenever he is assured that a majority of the women want to vote. Therefore he proposed to poll the women on the subject. The ladies who are asking the Legislature to give them the ballot shied at the proposition. They had rather let the men decide the question.

Is the suffrage amendment likely to carry if it is favored by only a minority of the women of the State? We do not think so. It has been the belief of THE TRIBUNE that the moment a majority of the women earnestly asked for the ballot it would be given them. The fact that nine-tenths of the women either do not want the ballot or are indifferent to the demand for the ballot put up by their sisters who do want to vote has all along been the chief stumbling block to woman suffrage in this State. A great many men who are not opposed to women suffrage on principle are indisposed to force the ballot on women unless a majority of the men really desire it. There is no proof that a majority of them do desire it. There is much negative proof that only a comparatively small minority of women do want to vote.

There is hardly a doubt that a suffrage amendment will be submitted at this session of the Legislature. It will be voted on by men exclusively. Were it backed by an authoritative expression of the wishes of a majority of the women of the State it would carry beyond question. Lacking such an expression it is likely to fail. A plebiscite of the women would do more to settle the suffrage question than anything else. It is possible of course that Senator Sanford submitted his proposition to delay the submission of a constitutional amendment, but it is hardly fair to assume that he did. At any rate he proposed to settle a vexed dispute as a prelude for further action.

The Berkeley loop of the Southern Pacific's interurban electric railway system is rapidly nearing completion. This loop pierces the heart of Berkeley, passing within a block of the university grounds, and swings around through the Northbrae and other additions. Albany and West Berkeley, thence back to the Oakland mole. When this line is completed and opened to traffic it will afford rapid transit facilities to an immense territory now being improved for residence purposes. It will draw away from Oakland home-seekers and home-builders unless the Southern Pacific is permitted to go ahead with its plans to provide similar rapid transit facilities for the annexed district. The Alameda lines are nearly ready for electricity to be substituted for steam, and when that substitution takes place the annexed district will have direct communication with the Alameda mole without passing through the business section of Oakland. This condition is brought about by holding up the Seventh street franchise. Thus Oakland is threatened with a diversion of home-building and travel to the north and south as a result of stupid and vengeful obstruction.

It is to be hoped that the mantle of charity and decency will be allowed to drop over the Barry case. Since the aged admiral asked to be retired while under accusation made by the junior officers of his flagship the least said about the matter the better. He has not asked for a hearing before a court of inquiry or a court-martial, hence it is obvious that he is content to leave the naval service under a cloud. Let it go at that. The scandalous gossip will die away in time, but a trial would stain the honor of the navy with a lot of ugly muck which had better be left undisturbed.

God's Likeness to Man

By REV. A. J. CASE,
Pastor Centennial M. E. Church.

"If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him?"—Matt. VII:11.

If Jesus Christ were not the first to call attention to the parallel between God and man, at least he was the one who applied it most persistently and clearly. Fully stated his argument is, "Man does this and so, but God is greater, better, and wiser than man, how much more then will he give or do this or that?"

Then to this day there has been discovered no better way of interpreting God than in what we find of him within ourselves. Our weaknesses and limitations impair and obscure many of our best purposes, but at least the desire is there, and that great being who pondereth the way of his children, will enable us to realize it ever more perfectly, while the desire will bring us into ever more blessed relationship with him who, we believe, prompts it.

We are to think of God in the light of whatever is worthy of admiration in human life. To realize many things to disturb and perplex us, many problems over which we shall wrestle to the end of the chapter without success; but in the goodness, kindness, self-sacrifice and magnanimous love of mankind we see an expression of God. The father's love tells it, and the father's patient endurance tells it. Think of God as highly as we will, he is still far beyond us, and at the perfect on that in one way and another we strive after in human character abides in his fulness in him.

The application of the text, therefore, is far broader than any mere family relationships. It is only another way of saying if noble men and women are willing to strive after these high ideals of human society, if they are willing to hold to firmly the aim and to rescue the fallen, and to feed the poor, which more is God striving in the same great, divine way, and we can feel that all our efforts, however futile they often seem, are gathered up and led to success by him.

How Perkins Was Elbowed Out

The "street" is still talking of the recent changes in the house of Morgan. It can be distinctly said that Mr. Perkins was elbowed out. Everybody expected that he would be dropped a few months after the life insurance investigation. Nothing has more charmed J. P. Morgan since he was obliged to drop the name of Drexel from the firm and put his own name at the head, than the revealed conduct of Mr. Perkins in passing international marcellite more bonds out of the December 31 account of the life insurance company and taking them back immediately after the first of January following. Mr. Perkins said he had sold the bonds to the house of Morgan, and his partners were obliged to say that they never bought them.

The name of J. P. Morgan does not stand in the world for art or artfulness; it does not even stand for millions or in-fallibility but it does stand for integrity. Mr. Morgan's bluff "No" or brusque "Tisn't true," is worth more in banking circles and in the world of financial power than columns of explanations from somebody else. The single word of J. P. Morgan will sustain more weight than that of any other banker in the world. This is the largest asset of J. P. Morgan. It is what rallies millions around him in a reorganization or gives him control of hundreds of millions to stem a panic. After the life insurance investigation and the pitiless exposure of Perkins, Mr. Morgan was furious. For weeks thereafter he would absorb himself from his office, and when he came he would have no words with Mr. Perkins' keeper than a box of razors was the mind of Perkins, blunt as an ax was the word of Morgan. Morgan could feel a forest of falsehood, Perkins could carve the sharpest turns, but his carving would not wear. Mr. Perkins was right ten years ago. The training of a life insurance solicitor had not fitted Mr. Perkins for the banking world. Mr. Perkins started at $75,000 a year with the house of Morgan ten years ago. He is now dropped out and Mr. Porter comes in from the Chemical National bank, starting at $150,000 per annum—New York Letter to the Boston Bureau.

FLYING FAST FOR SAFETY

Claude Grahame-White, in a London interview, makes a novel argument for higher speed in aviation as the best means of overcoming one of its main risks. The risk is the onset of sudden wind gusts. In spite of the fact that where aviators were once baffled by a five-mile breeze they can now keep their machines under control in a twenty-five-mile an hour wind, flaws in the wind yet remain a grave peril to all airmen. Says Mr. Grahame-White: "On a high-speed aeroplane, for example, you dash through an adverse gust in the same way that a fast torpedo boat destroyer thrusts her way through an opposing wave. At a speed of 100 miles an hour it will be possible to pilot a machine through everything short of an actual gale."

This is much after the manner of a plea for greater risks in aviation to escape the hazards that already exist. In any way and all other forms of transit, speed has come as the last development after mechanical appliances have been perfected. To reverse the conditions in aviation would be to multiply the dangers which experiment has shown to be only too numerous in high speed flying. What aviation needs more than speed is safety along with accuracy and precision. Safety Mr. Grahame-White as a "practical flyer" thinks it has, notwithstanding its facilities, a mere thirty among 3000 airmen. But aeroplane engines are not yet reliable and aeroplane construction reveals defects which must be corrected before flying becomes safe or sure. More attention to the mechanical essentials and less to the circus feats will best promote the conquest of the air.

MINING FOR COFFINS

One of the most curious industries in the world is the business of mining for coffin planks, which is carried on in upper Tenguin, a portion of the French possessions in Southeastern Asia. In a certain district in this province there exists a great underground deposit of logs which were probably the "runks" of trees engulfed by an earthquake, or some other convulsion of nature, at a comparatively recent period. The trees are a species of pine known to the natives, and also to some extent to European commerce, as "rain-hou." The wood is almost imperishable, and has the quality, either through its nature or as the result of its sojourn underground, of resisting decay from damp. This quality makes it particularly valuable for the manufacture of coffins, and for this purpose it is largely exported to Europe. The trees are often a yard in diameter. They are buried in sandy earth, at a depth of from two to eight yards, and are dug up by native labor as demand is made for them.—Harper's Weekly.

ME AND ANDY AND JOHN

Me and Andy and John
Are givin' a lot away
To colleges here and colleges there—
We're helpin' 'em every day.
There's John—he's a fella in a happy smile
And he'll be a chum against his pile.
And Andy—biddin' 'em the world has peace,
And wishin' 'em the wars would somehow cease.
And me—I'm doin' 'em hours of toil
To pay the bills for the steel and oil.

John and Andy and me—
We're certainly helpin' some
With money for this and money for that,
Givin' 'em as precious as gold.
There's Andy makin' 'em carve his name
From the libraries of his fame;
And John—he's teachin' the young to save,
And givin' advice he always gave.
And me—I'm helpin' 'em both ends
By chippin' in on 'em dividends.

Andy and John and me
Hold wealth as a precious trust;
We're helpin' 'em love and helpin' 'em
To shoo out of their hearts.
There's Andy—bushy as he can be
Considerin' plans for a library.
And John—he's a boundin' ball
And lettin' his word of wisdom fall;
And me—I'm payin' 'em small amount
To help 'em both to a bank account.

Me and Andy and John
Are givin' our money free—
To colleges here and colleges there
Are gittin' it from us three.
There's John—the happiest when he gives,
And he'll be doin' it at while he lives;
And Andy—makin' 'em raise their part
To build the house for books and art;
And me—I'm givin' 'em a fine feel
A-payin' the bills for oil and steel.

WARNS DEMOCRATS TO KEEP ALL PROMISES

Champ Clark Says Party Must Maintain Harmony
Achieved.

LAST ELECTION WAS NOT BOURBON VICTORY

Next Speaker Declares it Was
More a Defeat of Republicans.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 17.—Declaring that the gathering of Democrats was not to achieve harmony, but for the maintenance of harmony already achieved, Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, leader of the minority in the House and assured of the speakership of the next Congress, warned the Democratic conference here today that much remained to be done to assure Democracy a secure hold on what it already had attained.

"When we analyze the figures of the last election," he said, "it will be seen that the results were not so much a victory for the Democrats as a defeat for the Republicans. Our success was the result largely of the state-at-home vote. Therefore we are really in a state of probation. The country has concluded to give us another chance to demonstrate our fitness to conduct the government after sixteen years of exclusion from power."

SURPRISED RANK AND FILE

Clark admitted that the victory of November was a surprise to the rank and file of the Democratic party. He added that with the inspiration born of victory the party had "more than an even chance of sweeping the country from sea to sea in 1912."

"This glorious result can be achieved," he continued, "by the very simple process of carrying out religiously the promises which we made in order to win last November. All those who have eyes see and having ears hear, know that the G. O. P. was brought to death's door because in 1908 it failed to do what in 1908 it had promised to do."

Repeating the imputation that the Democratic party was a party of negotiation, Mr. Clark pointed out that Thursday of the present week would see the Democratic house in conference in Washington to select the Democratic members of the ways and means committee. This accomplished, he said, the members would proceed to the consideration of the tariff and when the next Congress convened there would be ready a system of tariff-making which would be a thoroughly considered plan for revision.

TWO WAYS TO REVISE

"There are two ways of revising the tariff," he continued, "one by a general bill, the other by particular bills for particular articles or even particular bills for particular items. The consensus of opinion among Democrats seems to be that the latter is the preferable method and that we should proceed to revise by separate bills, taking the most obnoxious schedules first."

There was to be no drastic or ill-considered tinkering with the tariff law, Mr. Clark assured his hearers, and he returned sharply to criticism that any such plan was in contemplation. Economy in the conduct of the public business was another anti-camp campaign promise that the party would carry out, Mr. Clark averred.

"The curtailment of appropriations," he acknowledged, "will prove perhaps as difficult as the reduction of the tariff, but that both will be accomplished there can be little doubt."

DR. FINE HOME AFTER LONG TRIP

An Oakland Physician Spends
Time in Study of Surgery in East.

After a year spent in eastern cities and in Europe, studying modern methods of surgery and medicine, Dr. H. M. Fine, who formerly practiced in this city, has returned and will open offices within a short time in the Thayer block at Fourteenth and Jefferson streets.

A greater part of his time he spent in the New York City as house surgeon in the New York Living-in hospital and also in the health department. Later on he went to Baltimore and attended the Mark Hopkins University Medical School. One month of the time was spent in the Rutland hospital in Dublin, Ireland, where a great deal of valuable information was obtained, the Rutland being the most famous institution of its kind in Europe.

In spite of the fact that the doctor was greatly taken up with New York and the east in general, he said today that he was glad to return to Oakland, and while he has traveled all over the world at different times he has found no place where climate is so well as in Oakland as that about the bay of San Francisco.

GOOD ENOUGH FOR HIM.

"Oakland is good enough for me," he said, "and I am satisfied that the city has a wonderful future before it. During the last year it has made great strides in advancement and there is no city in the country that has a brighter prospect."

"As for New York, it is the greatest field for the study of medicine and surgery in the world and in every other respect it is undoubtedly the premier city."

In returning to the coast Dr. Fine traveled over the southern route and only missed the Ogden holdup in which a number of Oaklandians were relieved of their valuables through his being routed over the other road on account of blockades.

"It was good to get back to the sunshine and the flowers," he continued, "and while I thoroughly enjoyed my year's absence and experience, I now expect to remain in Oakland."

GENEROUS WATER SUPPLY IN LAKE

Rainstorm Insures an Ample Supply for Dependent Territory.

The late rainstorm furnished a generous water supply at Lake Cabot, the principal reservoir of the People's Water Company. The total precipitation during the storm was 8.84 inches making total rainfall there for the season thus far of 10.63 inches.

Under the influence of the storm the lake rose 18 feet and the surface now stands at the 72 feet 6 inch mark which is two feet higher than it was at the same date last year although up to the present time the season's rain all is on an average one-half inch less than the record of last year at a corresponding date. The maximum high water mark of the lake is 85 feet. When it reaches that point an excess of water flowing into it must be run off through the waste gates at the dam.

At its present stage Lake Cabot contains enough water to guarantee an ample supply to the territory dependent upon it for at least two years. The rain season is, of course, not yet half over, hence in all probability the next good rainstorm that comes it will fill the lake to high water mark.

ALDEN ANDERSON MAY LOSE PLACE.

Governor Johnson Has a Plan for "Consolidating Out" Some Officials.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17.—It is now rumored that Governor Johnson is planning a coup d'etat which will remove Alden Anderson from his position as State Superintendent of Banking. The plan is said to be to have the position abolished and to create a banking commission composed of four members, two of whom would select a president who would be paid a salary of $10,000 a year.

The same rumors connect the name of W. H. Landon, former District Attorney of San Francisco, with the place. Those who give credence to the story express the belief as to whether or not such action could be obtained, they are sure to be successful.

It is also said that an effort will be made to oust J. C. O'Farrell from the office of Insurance Commissioner to which he was appointed when he left service as Governor. O'Farrell's salary is $10,000 a year.

Chicago Italian Barbers Reap Harvest in Work and Future "Rats."

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Italian barber shops of South Clark street are getting the benefit of the decision of the Chinamen to part with his queue. There are no Chinese barbers in the South Clark street district, and Italians with characteristic thrift have had notices written in Chinese posted in their windows announcing that they are ready for all the queue trade that comes their way.

The Chinese had fallen in with this suggestion and the trade is going to Italian barber shops.

The reason the Italians are so anxious to get this business is that there is a double profit in it, for they not only get paid for their hair-cutting, but also the queue business, and queues are marketable commodity.

WHISKERS FIRST USED AS ASSET

Buffalo and Pawnee Bill Oppose Moving Picture of the Plains.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—That whiskers may on occasion be regarded by the courts as a trade asset of considerable value is established for the first time in litigation in the State Supreme Court here.

The court has just granted an injunction restraining a moving picture film company from exhibiting "The Tender of the Plains," a story of the "wild west," on the application of several plaintiffs, among them Buffalo and Pawnee Bill. The movie and songs of Colonel Cody and his other distinguishing features constitute a valuable trade asset, according to the papers in the case and should not be exhibited by others.

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Granville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter." MRS. H. B. BARGAT, R.F.D., Granville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

RENDERS REPORT FOR YEAR'S WORK

Commissioner of Corporations Tells of Labors During Past Year.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The annual report of the commissioner of corporations for 1910 to the Secretary of Commerce and Labor has been submitted to Congress. The report is chiefly a brief review of the work done by the bureau of corporations since the time of its creation seven years ago. In 1906 the bureau's report exposed the railway discriminations in favor of the Standard Oil Company, which resulted six months later in the cancellation by the railroads of every rate that the report condemned as illegal and criticized as inequitable. In 1907 the bureau described the methods of the Standard Oil Company, its investment in single stock, its purchase of stock in a substantial improvement in the business of independent oil concerns and, in 1909, in the repeal by Congress of the retaliatory duty which had prevented imports of petroleum from the most important foreign producing countries.

The bureau's reports on the cotton exchanges, tobacco industry, water powers, taxation of corporations and waterways have all been productive of public benefit.

PLAN LAND DRAWING.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 17.—Another great land drawing will be held in this State by the U. S. Land Office, probably in the fall of 1912. Over 1,000,000 acres in the Colville reservation will be opened to entry. The Department of the Interior declares that the work of allotting the 2000 Colville Indians will be completed within twelve months.

How to Gain Flesh

A simple but sure way to increase the weight, it is asserted by several well-known physicians, is to take regularly for several months, one or two grain hypodermic tablets after each meal. These little tablets have the distinguished merit of increasing the red and white blood corpuscles, aiding digestion and promoting assimilation and absorption of the elements in the food which go to make blood and solid tissues. They are obtainable in sealed packages from physicians and well known apothecary shops.

BRAND WHITLOCK GOES ON OPERATING TABLE

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 17.—Brand Whitlock, well known author-Mayor of Toledo, who was stricken with an apoplexy suddenly, took a turn for the worse last night and after a consultation of physicians an operation was decided upon.

The Mayor was at once removed to St. Vincent's Hospital, where Dr. Peter Donnelly performed the operation, which was most successful.

Whitlock at 3:30 was resting easy, and his physicians expressed themselves as greatly pleased with his condition.

MUNICIPAL MUSIC FAILS.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 17.—The Socialist administration yesterday received figures from the four municipal Sunday afternoon concerts which have been held since the day of December, showing that the concerts have been a failure financially and that the deficit is now $1000, or about $250 for each concert.

The plan was to continue the concerts until the summer months.

A GOOD SHAMPOO FOR ONLY ONE CENT

"It is hardly believable that women will pay a dollar for a shampoo," says Mac Martin in the Philadelphia Inquirer, "when they can give themselves a better one at home for about one cent. Not much is true, and invariably women paying the exorbitant price have thin, straggly hair."

"Every woman can have fine, glossy hair if she will carefully dissolve a teaspoonful of canthrox in a teaspoon of hot water. This should be poured over the scalp and rubbed until it lathers well, then the hair rinsed thoroughly."

Every well found this canthrox shampoo not only restores natural lustre to the hair, makes the head feel good and banishes itching of the scalp. Be sure to get an original package of canthrox."
